Dear MOT Subscriber:

In the ongoing effort to keep MINIsOnTop on top, we asked those who attended last year to complete a survey and the results are in. In our best Richard Dawson voice we say, "Survey says 'Improve the accommodations' and that was the #1 answer!" To support that feedback we searched for locations that were large enough to take us all in, but offered more choice in the type of accommodations with a minimum cost penalty. We are excited to announce that the Attitash Grand Summit Hotel is the home base for MINIsOnTop 2009.

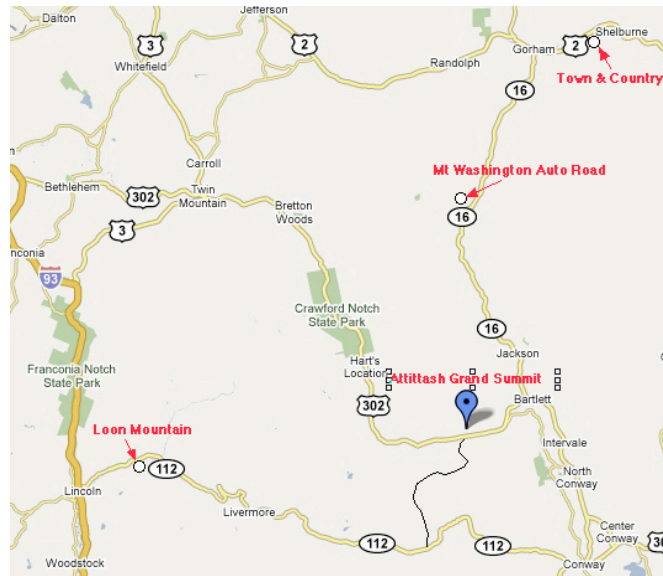

The Attitash Grand Summit is more expensive than the Town &Country; rooms at Attitash begin at $109 (2 night minimum)* vs. $92 at the T&C, but Attitash offers a variety of accommodations including suites with fully equipped kitchens and the ability to sleep six. They do not accept pets, but there are accommodations nearby that will. Sharing a suite or prepping your own breakfast may offset the increased cost right there, but wait – there's more!

Attitash will be providing us function rooms for our before and after parties and, of course, there is a lounge and restaurant on the grounds, but there is also the option of enjoying a meal on the dining car of the Conway Scenic Railway between Bartlett and Conway. On top of all that, Attitash is situated in Bartlett village, a little over a mile from Bear Notch Road off the Kancamangus Scenic Byway, some of the best driving roads in the White Mountains!

* One night prepaid at time of reservation and there is a $29 cancellation fee

Trying to convince the family they'll have a great time while you are in MINI heaven? Here are some added attractions Attitash offers: Alpine Slides, Waterslides, Buddy Bear's Playpool, Guided Horseback Tours, Mountain Biking, Scenic Sky Ride, Climbing Wall, EuroBungy Trampoline! Admissions to most of these, as well as to nearby Storyland, Santa's Village or the Waumbek Golf Club, can be packaged with your room.

We think all of this, combined with the ability to take us all in instead of spread among three locations, should make MINIsOnTop 2009 the best for socializing with family and friends.

See you at the Attitash Grand Summit Hotel (call 1-800-223-7669 and mention "MINIsOnTop") June 26th-28th!

Cheers!
